Dear Parent/Carer,

Our Scottish Poetry Competition Final was held on Friday 28th January. What a tough decision it was to choose the winners! Congratulations to Mason Moody P2, Alfie Docherty P5 and Lucas Law P6b who were our winners in their categories this year.

We hope to be able to arrange Parents' Meetings within the next month or so. We have had clarification that face-to-face meetings still are not permitted at this time, however will be arranging telephone calls. We will update families as soon as possible regarding dates and times.

Please remember that school closes at 2:30pm on Friday 1st April and re-opens on Tuesday 19th April for our Spring Break holiday. Please ensure all pupils are on time for a 9am start on Tuesday 19th April. This ensures pupils are maximising their learning opportunities.

As always, if you require any further information please don't hesitate to contact me.

Kind Regards
Fiona Donnelly

SCHOOL APP

Our school app is being used by many families, please share with families you know and spread the word – this is our main method of communication.

The internet is a great resource for our kids. It's a place to learn, to play, to create and to connect.

But there are some risks and dangers on the internet too. And it's totally normal to feel unsure about how best to help keep your child safe and secure online.

The good news is, with the same instincts you already have the right tools, as how you help protect them online is much the same as how you help protect them offline.

Parent Club's new Child Online Safety campaign gives parents the tools they need to check and monitor what their kids are doing online. It provides parents with advice on how to talk to their kids about what they do online, how to agree boundaries, practical things to make the internet safer at home, and where to find further help if they need it.

Advice like:

Opening up about online safety. It's important for parents to begin talking to their children about online safety on a regular basis. By doing so, and taking an interest in their child's online activities, parents can help build trust and confidence with their child. This makes it easier, if something does go wrong, for children to feel comfortable and safe telling a parent or trusted adult. Agreeing to boundaries.

It's tempting for parents to lay down the law when it comes to setting rules for their child's online activities. Instead, parents should consider discussing the rules with their child and agreeing to boundaries together. This ensures their child understands the rules in place and can help them to better develop good habits and online behaviours as they get older.

Protecting your child online. It's important for parents to be aware of practical ways they can help keep their children safe, such as adding safety measures to devices, streaming platforms, search engines and mobile and broadband providers.
