LI: I am learning about poetry.

Continue to practise 'Lament for a Lost Dinner ticket'.

Understanding: Answer the following questions in your jotter:

1. What is a 'dinner ticket'?
2. Who is talking to us in the poem, telling the story?
3. What happens in the poem?
4. Apart from the narrator, who else is speaking in the poem?
How does the other person's voice differ from the narrator's?
5. Some words in the poem are joined together (e.g., Pititnma) can you find any more examples? Why do you think the writer made these into one word?
6. Look at the spelling used in the poem. Pick out some words which are spelled differently from the way you might expect. Why has the writer spelled them this way?

Topic:

L1: I am learning to compare countries.

Create a cover page for Scotland in comparison to Pakistan in your jotter or an A4 piece of paper.

You could add in their flags and research what is famous in each country to add to your drawing.

You could also create your cover page online - Canva is a great site to create your own design! Follow this link:

Be as creative as you can!

Health and Wellbeing:

Spend some time with your family this weekend by creating your very own quiz night!

Be a quiz master and create some questions to ask family members.

You could include questions you have learnt from our topics this year!

Top Tip: Create rules about who will answer first, how many questions you will ask and how many points you will get for a correct answer.

Please upload your quiz so I can play with my family members too!

I will let you know who wins 😊.
