Literacy: Poetry

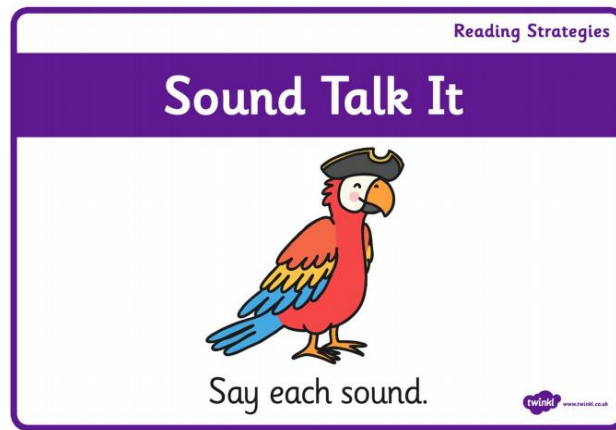

I hope you've all had a chance to look at and practise our Scots poem Wee Willie Winkie.

Today we're going to be looking at the meaning of the words in the poem. Please complete the task below, you can copy it on the sheet or you could write it on paper and send us a picture on Seesaw or by email. 😊

Have a look at the Scots word and write down or discuss with someone at home what you think it means. Then use a computer or phone to find out what it really means.

Reading

Last week we were learning all about Sound Talk the Parrot who helps us read by encouraging us to 'have a go' at sounding out all the letters all the letters in a word and slowly blending them together. Use Sound Talk the Parrot to help you read the sentences below, this can be tricky so it might take you a few attempts but don't give up! 😊

I've added some pictures with the sentences so you can also use Sharp Eye the Owl to help you too.

I have added this activity to Seesaw so you can record yourself doing it their if you like. 😊

A run in the sun.

A pup in mud.

Common words

Continue to practise these five common words. You can read them, find them in a book or write them.

Numeracy: Warm -up

Finger throw – can you represent a number using your fingers.

Can someone at home ask you the following questions.

Remember to always start your hands on zero – all fingers down.

Throw me: -

5	9	10
3	4	7

Measure - Length

Today we are looking at longer and shorter again. Have a look at this video, I thought it was really funny and I hope you do too! Sesame Street long and short

Look at the questions and draw a circle around the correct answer.

Which animal has the longest neck?
Which animal has the shortest ears?
Which animal has the longest body?
Which animal has the shortest tail?

Health and Wellbeing:

- Join in with Joe Wicks – The Body Coach, you can find this on Facebook, his website or on his Youtube channel. Have fun!!

Art

- Have a go at making your own paint brushes, all you will need is some washing pegs and different objects to go at the end of your peg. Which do you think will work the best as a paintbrush? Can you paint a picture or write your name with your new paintbrushes?
