Lesson 3: Celebrating Eid-ul-Fitr

Ramadan

At the end of Ramadan, when Muslims no longer have to fast, there is a special holiday, called Eid al-Fitr.

It lasts for three days and Muslims celebrate the breaking of their fast. The festival begins when the first sight of the new moon is seen in the sky.

They spend time with their families, eating a large meal and giving presents to each other.

P2/3 Week of 01.02.21

During Ramadan families clean their houses, give cards, go to the Mosque, give presents, wear good clothes, give money to the poor and draw mehndi patterns on their bodies.

In the Mosque, the holy book, the Qur'an is read in the mosque.

What other festival is Eid-ul-Fitr like? Food, presents, cards?
