The Loch Ness Monster

The Legend of Loch Ness

The Loch Ness monster, famously known as Nessie, is said to live in the deep, murky waters of Loch Ness. The loch is the second largest in Scotland and holds more water than all of the lakes and rivers of England and Wales combined. Part of the loch is 812ft deep and it has been named Nessie's Lair.

The first story of Nessie, the monster in the loch, dates back to AD 565. A monk called Columba was on a pilgrimage to Scotland and as he was about to cross Loch Ness, he encountered a giant 'water beast' coming out of the water. Legend tells that Columba said a prayer and scared the monster off.

Fact or Fiction?

Nobody has ever proved Nessie to be real. However, there have been over 1000 sightings since the legend began; there is even an official website to report a sighting. Three people have already spotted Nessie in 2017 and they have photographic evidence. Over a million tourists visit the loch every year to try and spot the famous monster.

Steve Feltham has been searching for Nessie for over 25 years. He has been recognised by the Guinness Book of World Records for the longest continuous vigil hunting for the Loch Ness monster.

The Loch Ness Monster

Famous Nessie Sightings:

Sighting	Evidence	Hoax
In 1934, a surgeon called Robert White reported that he saw Nessie's head coming out of the water.		40 years later, it was uncovered as a toy submarine with a fake head and tail.
In 1935, a hunter claimed he found a footprint on the banks of Loch Ness.		The print was made with a stuffed hippo foot.
In 2012, a boat skipper saw a hump coming out of the loch.		In 2013, the skipper admitted it was a fibreglass model of Nessie.
In 2014, Nessie was spotted on a satellite photo.		It was the wake of a boat.

Searching for Nessie

- In 1934, the first official search to uncover the mystery of Loch Ness took place. 20 men were paid £2 a day to be 'monster' spotters but nothing was spotted.
- The largest search to date was in 1987. It was called Operation Deepscan and it cost £1 million. Researchers used sonar technology and underwater cameras to look for Nessie. They searched 60% of the loch and the only evidence they uncovered was something 'larger than a shark but smaller than a whale'.
- Even Scooby Doo has searched for Nessie, but he was unsuccessful too!

HWB – Positive Thinking

Making Negative Thoughts into Positive Thoughts

Often, we think negatively about a situation or an event that has happened or is about to happen. When we think negatively, we are likely to carry on thinking negatively, which helps to make the thought more powerful. When this happens, it is really difficult to find positive thoughts. This can lead to a one-sided view of a situation or event which is often not a true judgement.

Please complete the table below so you can see how you can change negative thoughts into positive thoughts.

Negative Thoughts	Positive Thoughts
My friends don't like me anymore because I can't go to the party on Saturday night.	Some of my friends can't go to the party either so we could meet up on Sunday instead.
I am not good at maths because I only got 16 out of 20 correct in my test.	<hr/> <hr/> <hr/> <hr/>
I don't want to move house as I won't make any new friends and I will be lonely.	<hr/> <hr/> <hr/> <hr/>
My new school won't be as good as my current school.	<hr/> <hr/> <hr/> <hr/>

Making Negative Thoughts into Positive Thoughts

Once you have completed these examples, complete the table below with your own negative and positive thoughts.

Think what positives you can see from the situation and how you can think more positively.

The more positives you can find, the more positive you will think, as the negative thoughts will be reduced and the situation will appear more balanced.
